

Disability Service Plan

2014–2016

Great state. Great opportunity.

Message from the Director-General

I am pleased to present the Department of Justice and Attorney-General's Disability Service Plan 2014–16.

The plan shows how we will deliver on the vision and goals of the whole-of-government Queensland Disability Plan 2014-19: Enabling choices and opportunities. The whole-of-government plan focuses on enabling those with disability to have choices and to share the opportunities that are available to all Queenslanders.

The department's plan includes 33 actions to support whole-of-government priorities. Some of these actions relate to justice issues in Queensland, including the over-representation in the criminal justice system of people with an intellectual or cognitive impairment, both as offenders and victims of crime. The plan also includes actions to protect the rights, interests and safety of people with a disability, and actions to help people find and use our services more easily.

The plan aligns with the Department of Justice and Attorney-General's 2014-18 Strategic Plan vision for a fair, safe and just Queensland.

The department will continue to work with other Queensland government agencies to ensure these actions are delivered. I encourage all of you to read the plan and to consider how this department can continue to contribute towards enabling better choices and opportunities for people with a disability in Queensland.

John Sosso

Director-General
Department of Justice and Attorney-General

About the department

The Department of Justice and Attorney-General (DJAG) is the government agency responsible for delivering a range of justice services across Queensland.

DJAG delivers the following range of services:

Our Services	Role
Criminal and Civil Justice	Criminal and Civil Justice contributes to a safer, fairer and more just Queensland through courts, tribunals, coronial and prosecution services. This service area also provides state-wide Justice of the Peace services and civil and criminal mediation services. It contributes to improved service delivery by providing community access to fair, timely and affordable justice services.
Fair and Safe Work	Fair and Safe Work contributes to a safer Queensland by providing workplace health and safety services, advice and standards to keep Queenslanders safe at work and by developing standards and strategies for electrical safety and improved electrical safety performance. This service area also provides workers' compensation policy advice and industrial relations framework support for the Queensland private sector to help make Queensland a fairer and more just place to work.
Legal	Legal provides independent legal services for public sector agencies and the State. It also develops and coordinates proposals for justice-related legislation and provides advice on law reform and justice policy. This service area contributes to a fair, safe and just Queensland.
Human Rights Protection	This area contributes to a fairer, safer and just Queensland by supporting victims of crime and protecting the rights and interests of vulnerable adults and children. Guardianship and victim of crime services uphold the rights of vulnerable Queenslanders and ensure they are treated fairly and justly. Births, deaths and marriages registration services protect access to individual legal and social rights through validated identity documents.
Liquor, Gaming and Fair Trading	Liquor, Gaming and Fair Trading provides regulatory and consumer protection services across the liquor, gaming, and general services sectors to contribute to a fair and safe Queensland. It encourages marketplace and industry integrity, fosters business and consumer confidence and implements initiatives that minimise the risk of harm from liquor and gambling.
Youth Justice	Youth Justice helps to make Queensland fair, safe and just by providing early intervention, statutory youth justice and detention services to hold young people accountable for their actions, encourage their reintegration into the community and promote community safety.
Custodial	This service area contributes to a safe and just Queensland by managing Government and privately-operated custodial facilities and supporting the rehabilitation of offenders within and outside its facilities. It assists crime prevention through the humane containment, supervision and rehabilitation of offenders in correctional centres.
Probation and Parole	Probation and Parole contributes to a safer Queensland by providing supervision and rehabilitation of offenders in the community, to reduce the likelihood of re-offence. It also helps Queensland remain fair and just by targeting resource allocation depending on the offender's assessed level of risk.

DJAG services cater for a wide range of client groups, including people with a disability, and recognise that physical, social and organisational barriers can prevent inclusion in the justice system. The purpose of this plan is to make the justice system more accessible and responsive to the needs of people with a disability. The plan acknowledges that people with disability are more vulnerable to victimisation and abuse in the community, and that inability to access equal justice further complicates existing disadvantages they may experience.

This plan works towards removing barriers for people with disability and makes sure they have the same opportunity as other individuals to participate in the services delivered by the Department of Justice and Attorney-General.

Monitoring and reporting

DJAG will publish 2014 and 2015 progress updates on the Justice website. In 2016 the department will contribute to a whole-of-government progress report prepared by the Department of Communities, Child Safety and Disability Services.

Information from whole-of-government reports on the Queensland Disability Plan will be shared with the other Australian state and territory governments as part of reporting on Queensland's commitments in the National Disability Strategy 2010-20.

About Disability Service Plans

1. The purpose of DSPs

The Disability Services Act (Qld) 2006 provides a strong foundation for promoting the rights of Queenslanders with disability, increasing their wellbeing and encouraging their participation in community life. An important feature of this legislation is that it requires all Queensland Government departments to develop and implement Disability Service Plans (DSPs). The purpose of DSPs is to ensure each department has regard to the Act's human rights and service delivery principles, and the government's policies for people with disability. DSPs aim to improve access to services across government for people with a disability, including more coordinated responses. DSPs were first implemented across government from July 2007.

On 2 December 2013, the Queensland Government endorsed the Queensland Disability Plan 2014-19: Enabling choices and opportunities (QDP). The QDP will provide the focus for Queensland Government Disability Service Plans until 2019. It has two key aims:

1. preparing Queensland for the National Disability Insurance Scheme, which will commence from 2016
2. supporting Queensland to be ready, willing and able to make social and economic opportunities available to people with disability, and to make other services and sectors such as education, health, transport, tourism and housing accessible and inclusive.

The Department of Justice and Attorney-General DSP outlines the actions that we will take to support the delivery of the QDP.

2. Policy Context

The Queensland Disability Plan aligns with, and will deliver on, Queensland's commitments under the National Disability Strategy 2010-2020. It will also contribute to meeting the Queensland Government's obligations under the United Nations Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities.

The United Nations Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities (the Convention), ratified by Australia on 17 July 2008, obligates all governments in Australia to work towards promoting, protecting and ensuring the full and equal enjoyment of all human rights and fundamental freedoms by all persons with disability and to promote respect for their inherent dignity.

The National Disability Strategy 2010-2020, endorsed by the Council of Australian Governments in 2011, represents a unified approach by all governments in Australia and the Australian Local Government Association to work together with business and the community towards the vision of an inclusive Australia. The National Disability

Strategy outlines six priority areas for action: inclusive and accessible communities, rights protection, justice and legislation, economic security, personal and community support, learning and skill, and health and wellbeing.

In addition, on 8 May 2013, the Queensland Government signed an agreement with the Commonwealth Government to commence the National Disability Insurance Scheme in Queensland from 1 July 2016, with full implementation in 2019. When the National Disability Insurance Scheme is fully underway an estimated 97,000 Queenslanders will receive the disability supports they need to participate in the community and pursue their life goals.

The department will continue to work with Queensland government agencies to ensure the actions are delivered, meet the needs of our clients with disability, and work towards the priorities, strategies and actions in the Queensland Disability Plan.
