RE: – William Ludwig KRAUSE

Enclosure 1 is a certified copy of a DFRDB Authority letter dated 31 March 1987 which outlines the retirement pay entitlement following my retirement from the Australian Defence Force on 13 February 1987.

Enclosure 2 is a copy of page 1 of the DFRDB letter dated 22 June 2018 advising of a 1.5% increase effective on payday 05 July 2018.

Because I elected to commute a portion of my retirement pay effective 16 February 1987, paragraph 3 of Encl 1 states my retirement pay entitlement will be reduced from $11478.74 pa to $10084.96 pa commencing on 09 April 1987. It then goes on to read that my fortnightly payment thereafter will amount to $386.82. This is an error because 26 payments @ $386.82 equals $10057.32 pa. This is a shortfall of $27.64 pa or $1.09 per fortnight plus indexation.

Has this error continued throughout my payment history from 14 February 1987 to date? How will this shortfall be rectified?

As stated in Paragraph 3 of Encl 1 my retirement pay was reduced from $11478.74 pa to $10084.96 pa from 09 April 1987. This is a reduction of $1393.96 pa or $53.60 per fortnight. This is a direct debit for the repayment of my commutation lump sum of $48210.71. If the direct debit $53.60 per fortnight has remained constant and not subject to any changes there would need to be 899.45 repayments made to repay the commutation amount of $48210.71.

Has the direct debit for my notional repayment been maintained at $53.60 per fortnight since 14 February 1987 to date?

Enclosure 2 states my Gross Fortnightly Pension is $1012.04. The figure as stated is not my Gross Fortnightly Pension and not the total amount of my pension. The amount ($1012.04) does not include the funds allocated to the direct debit for the repayment of my commutation lump sum. The figure $1012.04 is in fact my Net Fortnightly Pension after the deduction of the direct debit amount for commutation lump sum repayment.

What is the correct amount of my Gross Fortnightly Pension?

My Australian Defence Service details are as follows:

Your early response to these matters would be appreciated.
