Notice of Motion

I give notice that on the next day of sitting I shall move – that the Senate –

(a) notes that:

(i) On June 17, The Washington Post published an opinion piece written by Mrs Laura Bush, former first lady of the United States and wife to former Republican President of the United States, George W. Bush;

(ii) Mrs Bush's opinion piece was highly critical of the Trump Administration's policy of separating immigrant families at the Mexico-United States border; and

(iii) in her opinion piece, Mrs Bush wrote:

(A) This zero-tolerance policy [of children being separated from their parents, and children being kept in immigration detention] is cruel. It is immoral. And it breaks my heart;

(B) These images [of children warehoused in converted box stores] are eerily reminiscent of the internment camps for U.S. citizens and noncitizens of Japanese descent during World War II, now considered to have been one of the most shameful episodes in U.S. history;

(C) We [in the United States] pride ourselves on believing that people should be seen for the content of their character, not the colour of their skin. We pride ourselves on acceptance. If we are truly that country, then it is our obligation to reunite these detained children with their parents – and to stop separating parents and children in the first place.

(b) agrees with Mrs Laura Bush that governments should not use border protection policies to separate children from their parents or keep children in immigration detention.

NOTICE OF MOTION

21 JUNE 2018

I give notice that on the next day of sitting I shall move – That the Senate

(a) notes that:

- (i) a 2016 sub-licensing deal between Optus and the Special Broadcasting Service allowed Optus to screen all 64 matches of the 2018 FIFA World Cup, 39 of them exclusively,
- (ii) Optus charged customers $15 to access its streaming service of the World Cup,
- (iii) technical errors left customers unable to watch matches during the tournament's opening weekend, and

(b) notes further that the SBS has since arranged to show all remaining group stage matches, for free, to all Australians,

(c) considers this experience has demonstrated, once again:

- (i) the importance of our public broadcasters, and
- (ii) that the SBS is an invaluable national public institution, and

(d) congratulates the SBS for delivering outstanding value for money to taxpayers.
