

---

Senate Select Committee on Job Security

---

First interim report: on-demand platform work in Australia

---

Corrigendum to interim report tabled in June 2021

1. Correction to paragraph 4.33 on p. 66 of the report.

Omit:

Research by Dr Caleb Goods, Dr Tom Barratt, Dr Brett Smith, Mr Rick Sullivan and Dr Alex Veen, found that a significant proportion of food delivery workers average earnings are below the minimum wage, as illustrated by Figure 4.1.

Amend to read:

Research by Dr Caleb Goods, Dr Tom Barratt, Dr Brett Smith, Mr Rick Sullivan and Dr Alex Veen, found that a significant proportion of Australian consumers perceive that food delivery workers' average earnings are below the minimum wage, as illustrated by Figure 4.1.

2. Correction to paragraph 3.60 on p. 42 of the report.

Omit:

Menulog was founded in Sydney in 2006 to primarily provide delivery services to restaurants.

Amend to read:

Menulog was founded in Sydney in 2006 to provide online ordering solutions to restaurants with their own drivers.

Senator Tony Sheldon
Chair