

Approaches to SEQoNs asked of all (or multiple) agencies

When the interests of several Departments are involved, the Government Guidelines for Official Witnesses before Parliamentary Committees and Related Matters (the Guidelines) call for Departments to consult with other Departments as a part of the drafting process. This includes instances where the same, or similar, Senate Estimates Questions on Notice (SEQoNs) are asked of all or multiple Departments and agencies.

The handling advice outlined in this document is provided as a suggested approach to assisting with responses to such SEQoNs that are directed to all or multiple Departments and agencies. This suggested approach also seeks to ensure the efficient use of resources across Departments and agencies in responding to SEQoNs.

While individual Ministers, Departments and agencies are ultimately responsible for the answers that they provide to Parliament and its Senate Committees, this document supports the development of responses that are consistent with the Guidelines. Departments may wish to consult with the Department of the Prime Minister and Cabinet (PM&C) if they are unsure about when to apply this format.

Suggested approaches in responding to SEQoNs known to have been asked of all or multiple Departments and agencies have been presented under the most appropriate of the following sections:

- General principles
  - General guidance principles are provided for consideration in the drafting of responses to SEQoNs asked of all or multiple Departments and agencies.
- Consistent approach
  - A draft response has been suggested to offer consistency across Departments and agencies.
- Template approach
  - A format is proposed to support Departments and agencies, and ensure consistent and comparable information is provided.

General principles

The following general principles are intended to provide broad guidance on how SEQoNs directed at all or multiple departments and agencies may be answered subject to the specifics of a particular question and if it is accurate and correct for the department/agency responding.

\ Please note that the principles outlined in this section can be applied both to 'all-agency' SEQoNs, as well as those SEQoNs asked only of a particular Department or agency.*

Refer to publicly available information

Wherever possible and appropriate, refer to publically available information—for example, information in the Department's Annual Report, published on the Department's website or on the website of another entity

Departments and agencies may wish to consider making information publically available that is routinely sought through Questions on Notice. For example, data and information relevant to questions on matters such as those listed below may be suitable for this sort of approach.

For reference, PM&C proactively publishes information that is routinely sought through Questions on Notice on the PM&C Website, twice-yearly: <https://www.pmc.gov.au/about-us/accountability-and-reporting/half-yearly-reporting>

Information PM&C reports on includes:

- Working with ministers offices (e.g. relating to DLOs and Ministerial briefs);
- Portfolio entities, Interdepartmental Committees, Taskforces and Reviews; and
- Operational matters:
  - Travel (including SES travel);
  - Facilities;
  - Employee data (including contractors and ASL);
  - Work Health and Safety;
  - Advertising and information campaigns, promotional merchandise, and media monitoring;
  - Procurement activities; and
  - Use of consultants.

Provide only information required to answer the question

It is suggested that answers only include information necessary to respond to the question asked.

For example, if the answer to a question is simply 'No', consider only including 'No' as the response. It is not necessary to provide justification or additional context to such a response if it is not specifically requested in the question asked.

Refer to previously tabled responses, where applicable

When the same (or a very similar) question has been asked for a previous Estimates round/s, and the answer remains the same, suggest the answer should either:

- Refer to the previous response using a standard form of words below (example below),
"Refer to the response to Senate Estimates Question on Notice [QoN No.] for [Budget/Supplementary Budget/Additional] Estimates 202[X]-2[X]."
or;
- Where appropriate/advised, repeats the previous response, word-for-word.

Refer to another a Department or agency, where appropriate

Where an answer to a question is best sought from a Department or agency outside of the portfolio, and the question cannot be transferred as it has been asked of all Departments/agencies, consider using the standard form of words below

“Questions on [insert topic] are best directed to the [Department/agency name].”
