The Productivity Commission has always been a front for neoliberal ideology

Their support for union busting isn't usually this blatant

Unions looking after workers is, apparently, anti-competitive.

The @AlboMP Govt should abolish this 80s relic

I was at an international conference dinner where the entire Lib/ NP cabinet turned up. All of them were working the room, socialising.

Not Dutton. Marched in w his minders, set up in a corner, had food brought to him, & glowered.

Lipstick, meet pig.
