Description of the charity's activities and outcomes: SSA has undertaken significant steps towards implementing the Studio School model at scale. Since its inception in 2019, SSA has:

- . Developed positive, enduring relationships with Indigenous communities at each of the school sites proposed for commencement in the short-term and commenced this process with a further community in which a Studio School is likely to be developed in the medium-term
- . Conducted significant engagement with Federal, State and Territory governments to advocate for the creation of a new system of Studio Schools
- . Completed a successful Indigenous Advancement Strategy Grant to support the development of the Business Case and Business and Operational Plans
- . Developed a comprehensive Business Case and Business and Operational Plans for the proposed new system of Studio Schools
- . Engaged (and continue to engage) across corporate

Australia to support philanthropic fundraising and industry engagement with SSA in anticipation of working with corporate Australia to collectively break the cycle of failure in Indigenous education

. Completed detailed business and operational planning for the commencement of SSA as a system, the transfer of the Yiramalay/Wesley Studio School to SSA as the Yiramalay Studio School, and the development of two new Studio Schools to open in 2023, and a third new Studio School in 2024.
