Description of the charity's activities and outcomes:

The charitable objective is to help build a nation that leaves no one behind, through an Australia-wide leadership initiative that makes a substantive impact on societal inclusion, economic prosperity and equity of access. We know that key leaders shape the future for many. We also know too well the cost of poor leadership. The Governor-General's Australian Future Leaders program will better prepare, better equip and better connect Australia's future leaders for a more uncertain world by leveraging 65,000 years of collective knowledge and our unique national diversity. Significant financial and support in kind from community focused organisations and individuals who believe that Australia needs a national leadership program has been both committed and expended. No public money has been granted or committed. In the latter part of the financial year, the organisational focus, skill base and investment moved from selection, curriculum design and operational structure to delivery planning. FTE team members peaked at five. Seconded staff and contractors in addition. Community volunteers are in excess of 200. Significant intellectual property has been generated. Transport, accommodation and delivery partner contracts are all underway.
