

How can we trust the Government with foreign entities destroying our land like this.

It is irreversible.

When we teach others to follow the rules, why do we bother, if someone can make money and try to hide from repercussions and still be allowed to operate?

Australians love our land. It is so upsetting to not only see others not, but to see the Government not enforcing proper regulations and warnings to avoid this.

If RioTinto burnt the Australian flag what would you say? Because this to me is all but the same.

Listen to the Australian public.
