

I wish to express my strong opposition to the Income Management and the NT Intervention for the following reasons;

They violate human rights.

They are taking us back to the days when racial discrimination, apathy and slavery was common and accepted in some parts of the world. They had no positive outcome and only bred hatred, defiance, hopelessness, insecurity in a society.

There are better approaches in building a "stronger future" such as making people feel accepted and valued in the society as a result raised their self confidence and give them that window of opportunity for a better, brighter future.

I strongly believe that the majority of people on low income are more than capable of managing their income. With the rising costs of utilities, rent and food, i sometimes wonder how they manage it all.

There are no strong or convincing evidence to justify the implementation of the Income Management and the extension of the NT intervention
