

I just want to send a message of disapproval to coal seam gas and coal mining developments in southern Queensland, or any of this mining so close or into fertile rich farm land. I think there is real potential for disaster, such as water contamination, and of course the fact that this mining will make fertile farm land a useless piece of dirt.

I'm not against mining but I don't want to destroy rich farm lands and water which will bring long term productivity and prosperity to Australia and Australians and I have a great concern that much of this land is being bought up by overseas investors who have no care, no thought of my and Australia's concerns.

Regards
