

Tweed Daily News

MR THOMAS GEORGE
55 CARRINGTON STREET
LISMORE NSW 2480
Ph: (662) 95
DPA

FROM COAST TO COUNTRY $1.00

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 1, 2011

PAGE 6
THE KINDNESS OF STRANGERS

PAGE 3
TYALGUM DESIGNER AT FASHION WEEK

PLUS: DEVELOPER TAKES KATIE MILNE TO COURT: PAGE 5

EXTRA DOLLOP: Lismore MP wants you to pay more for your daily pint at Coles supermarkets

GEORGE SOUR OVER CHEAP MILK

By Peter Caton
peter.caton@tweednews.com.au

SUPERMARKET giant Coles, which last week
slashed the price of its Homebrand milk, is under fire from National Party
To Page 2

MILKED BY SUPERMARKETS: Corey Crosthwaite, on his farm outside Murwillumbah, is one of Tweed's few remaining dairy farmers who are being squeezed by lower milk prices.
Photo: Scott Powick D130545

no deposit?

consider this!

Your family could cover the deposit gap using the equity in their own home.
Get the Family Advantage Home Loan.

Terms and conditions, fees and charges apply. See us for details.

Summerland
CREDIT UNION

1300 802 222
summerland.com.au

WEDNESDAY

It's all about you!

SPECIAL

JOKE OF THE DAY

SHERLOCK Holmes and Dr Watson were camping and pitched their tent and went to sleep. During the night Holmes woke Watson and said, "Look up and tell me what you see". Watson said, "I see millions of stars". Holmes said, "What do you deduce from that?" Watson replied, "Well, more planets and possibly life". Holmes said, "Watson, you idiot, it means someone stole our tent".

WEIRD WORLD

A NEW Polish board game reminiscent of Monopoly has been launched to help young Poles understand the hardships of life under communism. Players try to buy basic goods, but food supplies run out before they reach the counter. If a bed is needed, they are offered stools. The makers say the game shows hardships previous generations endured before communism ended in 1989.

Price war hurts dairy farmers

From Page 1

MP Thomas George for sparking a price war he fears will hurt farmers.

Mr George, whose state electorate of Lismore includes Murwillumbah, has called on Coles to reverse its decision to slash the price of its own-brand milk to $1 per litre.

Coles cut the price for a two-litre bottle to just $2 last Thursday in a move immediately matched by Woolworths.

On Friday Aldi followed suit.

Yesterday Mr George's criticism was backed by Murwillumbah dairy farmer Corey Crosthwaite - one of just eight remaining on the Tweed - following decisions by others during the past decade to abandon the industry.

Mr Crosthwaite said farmers had already suffered a 20 cents a litre cut to the farm-gate price for milk in the past nine months.

And although that price cut came via their co-operative Norco, Mr Crosthwaite said, "It's actually the supermarkets who are doing it."

"If you don't accept their price you lose the market."

"Most of the farmers were in their 70s or 80s. It doesn't hurt the old blokes as much but anyone that's young has such a massive investment and gets nothing back at the end of the day."

"If you get a flood or a drought it hurts us, but it doesn't hurt Coles or Woolworths."

Coles has said it would wear the loss and not pass on cuts to farmers, but Mr George argued the move was "irresponsible".

COLES CHALLENGE: Thomas George wants a better price for farmers.

"Even though it (Coles) says it will absorb the price cut, in the long run this will cause a price war between brands, which ultimately comes back to the producers," Mr George said.

"The dairy industry on the North Coast is still getting over deregulation, together with years of drought and now floods."

"Many farmers have left the industry and those that remain have had a hard time maintaining viability."

"This is a time when we should be supporting dairy farmers."

Mr George said the cost of feeding cows was increasing because of the flood damage to many crops.

"I again call on Coles to reverse its decision and return money to the farm gate by renegotiating its current contracts to increase the price by five cents per litre to the producer," he said.

If you get a flood or a drought it hurts farmers, but it doesn't hurt supermarkets

GOT A NEWS TIP?
Ring the TDN on 5523 6244

REGULARS

Classifieds .....	20
Comics .....	18
Finance .....	17
Funerals .....	20
Letters .....	12
Nation .....	9
Sport .....	22
Stars .....	18
TV Guide .....	27
Weather .....	2
World .....	11

TOMORROW

tickets and much more

Join our Daily Dollars promotion. All you need to do is collect the tokens and send them in for your chance to win. We've got plenty of great prizes to give away including: skydiving, electrical goods and much more. Send in your next token in tomorrow's paper.

tweednews.com.au

antic
re
lurging
r per-
page-
oved
business
ite for ow to bts.

WHAT DO YOU THINK

E-mail: letters@tweednews.com.au
Online: tweednews.com.au
SMS: 0428 634 025 (type TWEED followed by a space then your comment)