

I absolutely support the Food Standards Amendment Bill 2010 sponsored by Senators Xenophon and Siewert.

The Australian government wants to support the rights of farmers to grow GM crops, and for businesses to import GM food, but ignores the rights of the Australian consumers and taxpayers to choose what we eat.

As a mother of 2 young children, I have the right to avoid GM material in the food I purchase for my family and want changes to our existing food labelling standards to ensure I can exercise this fundamental right.

Sincerely,

Joanne van Ravenswaaij
