

Dear Members of the Board of the ABC,

I expect the ABC to be a producer of innovative quality programming in all areas. I want:

1. the ABC to be less dependent on outsourced programming.
2. the ABC to be funded and rebuilt so that it has strong specialist units to produce high levels of high quality and genuinely local in-house programming in all programme genres on radio, TV and online.
3. A public broadcaster that is focused on diversity and quality, not ratings.

For example I recently saw Art Nation celebrating the life and eccentricities of Margaret Olley, we cannot lose this valuable and educative programme.

My first job after leaving school was with the ABC in Hobart, I do not wish to see it's gradual demise through ill advised cost cutting.

Regards
