

Hello

I would just like to say that I am very against the current shift in increased advertising of gambling and the blatant discussions/advertising of gambling which occur whilst watching sport on TV.

I believe it glorifies something that is a real problem in our society.