

Parents Next

02/11/2022

I am a participant of Parents Next and it has been a very good experience. Parents Next has given me a chance to study and have free child care. I have made so many friends, being back studying has helped me so much and I have learnt so much.

Parents Next are great, not having to pay to study has helped me financially and I am in such a good place in my life because of Parents Next.

The one thing that has made things hard is if you miss an appointment your payment will get cut off and being a single parent it is hard to get appointments at times and makes it harder when payments get cut off because of that.

Here in [redacted] we all appreciate the things that Parents Next do for us and how much they help families that struggle.

Our lives would be a lot harder without Parents Next.
