

I so sorry to hear from immigration home website about new capping program is really unfair to our PR applicant on the waiting list especially for the applicant like TAFE student. in recent 50 years immigration was have huge barrier for our applicant, why your guys still will have program limited our people already applied PR. for those people like me came to australian for more than 6 year whatever on psychophysiology side did you think is fair for us? your guys really want to kick off a personal was in one country for his whole teen-ager in this country for such reason did you think is fair for them????