

---

Submission

The most serious deficiency in the parliamentary system at all levels is that it does not provide citizens with the opportunity to initiate discussion and comment on big issues relating to the future. Legislation is needed to make ours a fully participatory democracy.

Geoff Mosley

(Dr) Geoff Mosley AM

Australian Director
Center for the Advancement of the Steady State Economy

The CASSE position on economic growth may be e-signed at: <http://www.steadystate.org/CASSEPositionOnEG.html>