

Gender selection is one of the worst aspects of human beings playing God, but it pales into insignificance by the over population brought on by human being's mistake belief that everyone has a right to life. Nowhere in nature does every seed have a right to life. This selfish misconception is destroying the human race. We are quite simply breeding ourselves into oblivion