

The responsible members of the Australian public don't want greedy gas companies polluting our water table and our ground soil, denying their activities are harmful to the environment, and then when they've destroyed everything of value for their short-term profit, moving on and taking no responsibility for their actions! Fracking hell! Gas, greed and gross stupidity!!!

Kind regards
Alan Nurthen