

The recent announcement of the Government's intention to forcibly break-up Telstra causes me great concern:

1. I purchased Telstra I & II, through my super fund, in good faith, believing what I was told at the time by the Government. The investment has not met my expectations and should the forced break-up proceed, my shares will be worth even less.
I expect that if the Government proceeds, they will buy the assets back off me, before carving up Telstra.
2. The Government have not produced any facts or information to establish that their basic premise, that Telstra have a monopoly, is correct.
3. I live in a democratic society, not a socialist state, and expect the Government to act accordingly. The Government do not have a mandate from the Australian voters to proceed with this ill conceived idea.

Senators, please do not allow the Government to proceed with a forcible break-up of Telstra.

Yours sincerely,
Steven Jarick

The recent announcement of the Government's intention to forcibly break-up Telstra causes me great concern:

4. I purchased Telstra I & II, through my super fund, in good faith, believing what I was told at the time by the Government. The investment has not met my expectations and should the forced break-up proceed, my shares will be worth even less.
I expect that if the Government proceeds, they will buy the assets back off me, before carving up Telstra.
5. The Government have not produced any facts or information to establish that their basic premise, that Telstra have a monopoly, is correct.
6. I live in a democratic society, not a socialist state, and expect the Government to act accordingly. The Government do not have a mandate from the Australian voters to proceed with this ill conceived idea.

Senators, please do not allow the Government to proceed with a forcible break-up of Telstra.

Yours sincerely,
Dianne J. Jarick