Submission to the Inquiry into the Carer Payment

This Bill makes sense. It is important to support young people and people with disabilities. The Bill seems to create more stability in carers receiving payments for young people with disabilities, up to the age of 16 years and 3 months, without being disrupted by other processes - such as applying for new payments. It is a simple change, but one that presumably will give more stability and enable people to work out their situation without adverse consequences for them.

Kind Regards,

Benjamin Cronshaw.
