- f. Why would the Department request a merit assessment of an ineligible project?

20. Did the Department caution the Minister and the Ministerial Panel against approving the ineligible project?

- a. If yes, when? In what form? Can you table a copy?
b. If not, why not?

Answer:

The Department does not, under normal circumstances, comment on specific projects in order to protect the privacy of the applicant and commercial in confidence nature of the application / project. Noting however, the questions of the Committee and the fact that details of the applicant and project have now been made public through the media, the Department is providing information on this project in order to clarify the record.

In answering questions on notice, the Department has maintained the convention of not naming officials below the level of Senior Executive Service in order to protect the privacy of junior officials. The key senior Departmental officer covering the period subject to the QoNs raised here was Ms Ruth Wall, the then General Manager of Regional Programs Branch.

Nolan Meats Pty Ltd lodged an application for funding under the Wide Bay Burnett Regional Jobs and Investment Packages programme. The application was assessed as ineligible by the AusIndustry Business Grants Hub (the Hub) on 21 August 2017 due to the applicant's status as a Registered Training Organisation (RTO).

In the application, Nolan Meats noted that it uses its accreditation as an RTO exclusively for the training of internal team members.

As stated in the ANAO report, 12 applications under RJIP were identified as ineligible, including four due to their status as RTOs.

All 12 applicants were given the opportunity to submit a case to support why they should not be considered ineligible. Two ineligible applicants took up this opportunity, including Nolan Meats Pty Ltd.

The Hub reconsidered those two applications and did not change their assessments.

Minister McVeigh's office advised that the Ministerial Panel had a strong preference to fund this project as the RTO element of Nolan Meats' business was considered incidental to the project for which they were seeking funding under RJIP.

The Department requested the merit assessment from the AusIndustry Business Grants Hub to better understand the project in order to appropriately advise the Minister.

The Department provided advice on the detail of the four applications that were considered ineligible due to their RTO status on 7 February 2018.

On 8 February 2018, the Minister's office provided the Department with the list of projects approved by the Ministerial Panel (that included Nolan Meats) for inclusion into a submission for consideration by Cabinet.

It is a longstanding practice not to disclose information about the operation and business of the Cabinet, as to do so could potentially reveal the deliberations of the Cabinet, which are confidential.

The Ministerial Panel noted in their reasons for decision that Nolan Meats' status as an RTO was incidental to its core function and should not disqualify it from consideration under the program.

As noted in the ANAO report, the Minister complied with section 4.12 of the Commonwealth Grants Rules and Guidelines and wrote to the Minister for Finance to advise of the decision to fund this project and the reasons for the decision.

Nolan Meats Pty Ltd was granted $4,979,706 (GST exclusive) in RJIP funding to complete their Meat Processing Expansion project.

The Meat Processing Expansion project involves constructing facilities to enable the doubling of the current production capacity from 550 to 1100 cattle per day; including the construction of carcass chillers to store an extra 550 carcasses, and integration into the existing site facilities. New technologies will be introduced to guarantee customer specifications are met, and to increase the percentage of saleable beef from the carcass. This project will allow the full utilisation of the recently completed Distribution Centre at the same premises. Once completed, this expansion will create 200 direct full time equivalent positions, which will generate a $34 million yearly boost to the local economy.

At 31 January 2020, $1.1 million (GST exclusive) in RJIP funding payments have been made to Nolan Meats against their first contracted milestone (design phase) and 18 FTE have been engaged to date.
