

To those who hold the future of SBS in their hands:

I wish to appeal to you most sincerely not to increase the advertising time on SBS. Like many people it is my favourite television channel and although I tolerate the advertisements which are there now, I always wish to watch TV without any interruptions whatsoever.

Surely part of your brief is to satisfy the watchers. There are enough breaks in our daily lives. I ask you to give us some time to contemplate and enjoy what is produced, without the segmenting of portions.

Yours sincerely,

Ms Marty Morrison
