Financial Sector Reform Bill 2022

Dear Chair,

We thank the Senate Standing Committee on Economics for the opportunity to provide feedback on the Financial Sector Reform Bill 2022 and other legislation (the Bill).

The Salvation Army has long advocated for stronger regulations regarding Small Amount Credit Contracts (SACCs) and Consumer Leases. We have provided significant submissions upon the issue of SACCs in the form of Committee inquiries, and consultations conducted by the Commonwealth Treasury.

Since the SACC review in 2016, along with various incarnations of regulations and proposed legislation under successive parliaments, we have been vocal in supporting a number of rational regulations which will protect vulnerable individuals from falling into unmanageable debt.

The Salvation Army's services, including our financial counselling service, Moneycare, have seen numerous instances where individuals experiencing financial hardship are drawn in by Consumer Leases and SACCs. Hidden fees, payments which are unserviceable on their income, or predatory marketing for further products, prevents individuals from retiring the loans, often forcing them into a debt spiral. These practices have a significant impact upon individual's economic security, and mental and physical health.

Previous legislation to regulate the sector has fallen short of the recommendations of the SACC review. The incremental improvements included in the National Consumer Credit Protection Amendment (Supporting Economic Recovery) Bill 2020 were tied to unintended consequences, constituting an unacceptable compromise. Due to the short deadline, The Salvation Army has attached our contribution to the Committee's inquiry into the National Consumer Credit Protection Amendment (Supporting Economic Recovery) Bill 2020. (Attachment A). That submission highlights our concerns with the previous legislation and outlines the steps we consider appropriate to more adequately regulate SACCs and Consumer Leases.

The current Bill incorporates most of the critical recommendations of the SACC review. The removal of social security payments as a consideration for the protected earnings calculation is a Founders William & Catherine Booth General Brian Peddle welcome regulatory change which The Salvation Army wishes to see made urgently. Repayments of 20% of any person's income, regardless of source, were always unsuitable for individuals with limited incomes. This regulation not only harmed borrowers, it unfairly treated recipients of social security payments differently.

It is the opinion of The Salvation Army that the consumer credit reforms incorporated in Schedule 4 of the Financial Sector Reform Bill 2022 should be enacted without amendment.

Yours sincerely,

Paul Hateley, Major Head of Government Relations The Salvation Army Australia
