

hi sir/madam,

i ve been living here since 2 and half year and my husband is main applicant .he is living here around 5 year.we ve 3 months old baby as well.my husband is a good chef.he doing very hard.we both belongs to one of village in India .he choose Australia for a good future.he spent lot of money and time here.now he is around 30 years old and if we ve to go back India then we have to start our life form zero.this is really not fair.which type of work as a chef he is doing now that work has no value in our country cause there people are not use to for oz food.

so we r going under depression.what would we do if that decision they will pass.its like end of our lives and our family's as well.

so please i am just requesting to you.which people had put there 885 according to your requirement and even they doing right now same jobs as a cook or else,they should be consider that.i ll be very grateful if they think according to us.

thankyou:(
