

----- Original Message -----

From:      To: judith Sent: Tuesday, December 14, 2010 2:13 PM

Subject: My thoughts on "Coming Home To Truth"

I finally managed to sit down and read your entire book over two nights. I admire your strength,courage,and determination which is truly an inspiration not only to me as your daughter but also to everyone else reading your story. I am so proud of you for your constant persistence and hard-work to finally have the truth revealed and made public. You have certainly opened the door for many more people to find the courage to finally tell their stories and be heard. I am so proud to call you my Mum and truly appreciate everything you do for us all. I could not have wished for a more loving,understanding,supportive mother and I am so thankful for that. You have been on such a long journey which I now have a better understanding of. I hope that by writing this book that you may now feel some sense of healing.
Love forever and always

Your daughter

XOXO

7/01/2011