

INTRODUCTION

WITNESS CAPACITY

RECENT GLOBAL VISA PROCESS CHANGES:

- USA President executive order to restrict certain region visa's was accepted by the USA Supreme Court
- Many EU countries are recently deciding to reverse policy and return asylum seekers back to their homeland or pass the buck to first port of call country
- Many countries, as again reported this week, are wanting to adopt Australia's migration policies especially the stop the boats policy.
- USA President Trump last month pulled out of international united nation human rights commission, rightly citing it as being a form of activist hijacked select-group and sending human rights in a misdirected sphere

World leaders and Governments are changing via recent new learning's on visa controls which also includes asylum cases.

We saw gross justice confusion in the USA courts clouded by activism and judicial bias of what they personally perceived as human rights until the final appeal created clarity, the same clarity the Australian Government seek Australia has had similar judicial contradictions in regards to unelected human rights commissions and delegated tribunals like the AAT, The latter and its recent decisions shocked media and its readers / viewers via ignoring legislation pertaining to character and creating its own criteria of inexperienced human rights interpretations to which it is not specialised or qualified to enact.

We have seen human rights commissioners try and intervene in bad character cases without having the confidential file information's or intelligence reports to even know what they are defending, in fact, for privacy and confidentiality reasons the Minister is hamstrung from making much of the information available. The human rights commissions therefore, making blind assessments and judgements, are not elected and not empowered to legislate. This is further compounded by too many human rights commissions, international, commonwealth, and state commissions of same name and nature.

The opposition "ALP" Has indeed, been supporting many of the governments migration policies, however mostly via the wiser more long term experienced ALP politicians with the modern activist driven reps biting at their ankles in which will soon create mass party division, currently pre-selection process under review.

Today on TV 12-7-18 ALP leader Bill Shorten openly stated he will stay locked into the stop the boats policy. If re-elected, the ALP would be faced with current governments visa problems and outcries and would need to be careful what it might create upon itself if it hampers good policy for the sake of merely saying no to everything, however, the ALP has been assisting policy of late and wise to use their long experienced reps to keep maintaining this.

WHO ARE OPPOSING PROPER & FAIR VISA PROCESSING?

Exact same elements in USA are the same here in Australia, small, loud minorities painted as being bigger than they are, however they need media exposure and oddly comes from government / taxpayer funded TV channels.

These culprits are human rights commissioners, general activists mostly on the dole, SBS TV and ABC TV both with around 6 channels each utilised for almost full time activism. What this created over time, was a long rapid brainwashing of viewers minds via one sided reporting and policy attacks whilst not having access to visa holders classified file content per character and decision reasons.

REASONS CAN NOT ALWAYS BE RELEASED

Some visa rejection reasons were obtained by intelligence agencies who are protected from disclosures per national security or international security, or may even still be applicants who are under current monitoring. Others, the many who deliberately dumped passports and identity, hence a constitutional alien, automatic non recognition.

As can be noted, the opposers are small but loud and are assisted by taxpayer funded activist controlled TV and a few left wing newspapers pushing writer's personal activist agendas.

The general public are not as brainwashed as the activist clans portray, such as, mass negative reader comments greet all bad AAT decisions, another good example is a poll on migration by random newspaper readers of all classes and minds whereby it indicated an over population warning sign of almost everyone wanting all migration / visas halted.

These polls should concern any party and leader, and reflects why voters keep swapping elected party for not listening to them and instead being fooled by Activist media and commissions. Take careful note of dates.

The first poll in regards to Africans was made way back in 2007 before their new mass crime-wave spree and gang crime had begun in Victoria.

The other poll was when we had less resources strain from population growth, therefore worse now.

However, these tell an important statement of what the voters want per immigration and visa issues.

No doubt any genuine poll on powers to cancel or refuse visas would see a same result.

MY SAY

IE DAY

We do still live in a free world, don't we?

And if that doesn't work, sit down, relax and watch some South Park.

That way at least you can cheer on Sheila Broflovski as she runs off to fight battles for her children while neglecting them at the same time.

competition, enabling importers to gain a monopoly in the Australian processed pork market.

Prevention better than cure

THE Government is pouring ridiculous amounts of money to "insulate" the horse racing industry from equine influenza.

Why didn't it pour all that money into the quarantine service to ensure this type of thing

The constitution empowers visa matters to the parliament and the Minister for immigration, the latter holds the confidential files and most informed information. If the Minister detects a need for change he has it put to the parliament. The ABC or human rights commission or AAT have no constitutional or final decision jurisdiction. The opposition and crossbench has more than those entities. It is the rules, that the Minister has final say and should be unhindered, and upon putting new matters to parliament, he is the full knowledge and shares what he / she is permitted in order to ask for change. The opposition when in power expect the same.

The AAT must be made obsolete, it has had over 90% public backlash over most its recent decisions or meddling if you like. It has attempted to draft its own migration laws. Keep the domain within parliament, replace AAT with a 3 person panel of The Minister or their rep, one layperson first tested for bias, and one opposition party rep with lawyer advice to access for questions on law. Any appeal lies with the Minister directly.
