Dear Senate Standing Committees on Economics,

I am generally quite a moderate person. However, I am truly concerned about the far reaching Islamisation of our Nation.

As an Australian citizen and mother, I worry about Halal certification. The food I buy doesn't always state if it is Halal certified and I strongly oppose to funding what could potentially be a religious cause. I worry about the possibility for Halal Certification to be used as a cover to get money illegally to fundamentalist Islamist causes.

I am not concerned about organic certification or any of the other matters you have listed to investigate. I am only concerned about Halal Certification.

Yours faithfully
Karen Fuller
