

To the Inquiry:

I am in favor of the changes as proposed by the government. Very few clients exceed ten sessions and the savings are best transferred to those in greater need. On another matter I cannot see why Counselling Psychologists are not on the same basis as Clinical Psychologists (on the same tier). We treat depression and anxiety just as well, if not better than Clinical specialists. It is totally unfair that such well trained Counselling specialists are not on the same level as Clinical specialists.

Robert Maxwell BA, Dip.Ed., Dip.Ed.Psych., M.Psych., B.Fine Arts.
Counselling Psychologist