

World Of Wellness International Limited

20th. March 2023

Dear Honourable Members of the Australian Parliament
Senate Education and Employment Committees,

I am writing to you on behalf of The World Of Wellness International Limited based in Melbourne, regarding the COVID-19 Vaccination Status (Prevention of Discrimination) Bill 2022 and the Fair Work Amendment (Prohibiting COVID-19 Vaccine Discrimination) Bill 2023.

At The World of Wellness, we are committed to promoting health and wellbeing in our community.

Any medical procedure, medicine and vaccine, that is deemed a necessary requirement, must be fully approved with transparent and robust evidence of the safety and efficacy of the medicine/procedure and where a complete and proper risk assessment has been undertaken.

We now have robust, indisputable and overwhelming evidence that the COVID-19 vaccines are neither safe nor effective in preventing the spread of the SARS-Cov-2 virus and protecting public health. We do not support the government's efforts to encourage experimental and unproven novel mRNA vaccination. In fact, the evidence proves that it has not protected the community from COVID-19. In fact there is a very large global body of evidence that the vaccines are causing unacceptable harm.

We also insist that individuals have the right to make their own healthcare decisions and should always be given full, free, informed and enlightened consent to all treatments. Individuals given informed consent also have the right of informed refusal.

Furthermore, we demand that any measures taken to promote novel treatments including vaccination, obey the precautionary principle and should be done in a way that respects the individual's autonomy and human rights. They should also be founded upon a foundation of medical ethics and morality.

Also, the Bills should not exclude frontline health-care workers employed by the Commonwealth, States and Territories. Please note that mandates were imposed by the states when illegal at the federal level. In addition, there must be mechanisms in place that provide for open, transparent and accountable consultation with employees to which any government public health orders apply. Justifying mandates using secret health advice that cannot be challenged is an unacceptable abuse of power that creates unacceptable and unreasonable coercion and risks to employers' and employees' mental and physical health. It also reduces the public's trust and confidence in the health care system.

These are the reasons, provided the Bills have no exceptions, we strongly support the COVID-19 Vaccination Status (Prevention of Discrimination) Bill 2022 and the Fair Work Amendment (Prohibiting COVID-19 Vaccine Discrimination) Bill 2023. We oppose all discrimination in matters of health and health care.

These bills are important steps towards ensuring that individuals are not discriminated against based on their vaccination status. They recognise that vaccination is a personal choice and that individuals should not be penalised for choosing not to be vaccinated, especially if there is strong evidence of a lack of safety and efficacy. Where preventive and early treatments are available, as is the case with Covid but denied to Australians, common sense and the precautionary principle dictate that these should be promoted as a priority over an experimental vaccine.

The Nuremberg experience has been referred to during this pandemic and its code may be invoked in the future at an international level. Therefore its paramount to bring this to your attention as we do not approve of unethical human experimentation.

Therefore we believe that these bills are consistent with the principles of medical ethics and human rights, and they promote a fair and just society. We urge the Australian Parliament to support these bills without exceptions and to take all of the necessary measures to promote safe, effective and quality immunisation in a way that respects individual autonomy and human rights.

Thank you for your attention to this important matter and I/we are available and would appreciate the opportunity to present at any public committee hearings.

Yours Sincerely,

Professor Ian Brighthope

Founding Director,
For and on behalf of the board of directors,
