

The last thing the Veterans need is to have their system lumped in with the civilian system. Why would they have three union reps and only two defence members? Please block any changes to the current system. Defence members will be the biggest losers if the government has it's way.

Charles A Clarke, JP (Qual)