

Inquiry: the Third party certification of food

The Terms of Reference:

On 13 May 2015, the Senate referred the following matters to the Economics References Committee for inquiry and report by 30 November 2015:

- a. the extent of food certification schemes and certifiers in Australia including, but not limited to, schemes related to organic, kosher, halal and genetically-modified food and general food safety certification schemes;
- b. current labelling requirements of food certification schemes;
- c. the need for labelling on products produced by companies that pay certification fees;
- d. whether current schemes provide enough information for Australian consumers to make informed purchasing decisions;
- e. details regarding certification fees paid by food producers and/or manufacturers, and the potential for these to impact on prices for consumers;
- f. the importance of food certification schemes in relation to export market access and returns to producers;
- g. the extent and adequacy of information available to the public about certifiers including, but not limited to, certification processes, fees and financial records; and any related matters.

Response to the terms of reference in point order:

- A. The extent of halal certification is hidden from consumers. Many producers no longer display HC logo, so consumers can not choose to support this Islamic tax, or not.
- B. Labelling MUST be required to clearly display the producers support for halal certification. If any of their products (export OR domestic) carry halal certification, this should be displayed, so consumers can choose to support the Islamic tax, or not. This includes parent companies of the brand if any of the profits (and costs) are shared to or from parent companies that pay halal certification, as these costs will be spread across all brands indirectly.
- C. There is no “need” for halal certification. Muslim groups have agreed that “certification” is not required. It was devised PURELY to raise funds to grow islam.
- D. Current labelling does NOT allow consumers to make an informed choice as to whether they wish to contribute to the growth of islam in Western nations, including Australia.
- E. Producers are forced to sign non disclosure agreements to hide the fees paid, which are charged according to the producers “ability to pay”, not on any other basis.
- F. Halal certification is not important to exports. Producers have been deceived. The halal certification scheme was developed purely to tax westerners to fund Islam.
- G. Information is not forthcoming from producers that support halal certification. Many are deceiving consumers for fear of the boycotting movement, which will increase with exposure to the scam. The damage to Australia’s productivity through this deceptive religious tax will continue until it is banned. The Australian Government MUST BAN FEE COLLECTION for halal certification. Allow producers to certify if they choose, but require that their support for halal certification is CLEARLY shown on all labels of their brands, domestic or export. The “necessity” for halal certification will then be shown for what it is – not necessary.

Conclusion for committee consideration:

Committee members should spend some considerable time to become familiar with Islam and the Koran. Halal certification was developed purely to extract funds from non Islamic Westerners, to fund the growth and promotion of Islam. Islam is a death cult. Islam preaches death to non believers, and practices many barbaric and unacceptable ideologies that contradict modern civilised law. The only intention of Islam is to dominate the world, and the halal certification rort is funding that cause. Please be aware, when questioning any Islamic group or individual, that the practice of Taqiyya allows them, and encourages them to lie and deceive infidels, if it is in the best interests of Islam. The “Religion of peace” refers to the peace that will be upon the world when the whole world is dominated by islam, and controlled by Sharia law.

There is no such thing as a “moderate Muslim”. All practicing Muslims will be called to act, and they will obey when called to act.

Halal certification in Australia is a $billion+ industry. Globally, conservatively, $2.5trillion annually. Imagine if that productivity was returned to Australian producers, AND Australian consumers could once again support Australian producers.

Halal certified producers will INCREASINGLY be boycotted, until the Government bans halal certification completely, or at very least bans fee collection for certification.

Mosques breed radical Muslims.

Hidden cameras in large mosques in the UK have shown how members of the congregation are selected, invited to closed meetings normally in private homes or smaller club rooms. These individuals are very slowly (over a period of months) “radicalised”. They are brainwashed to obey the Koran literally. Islam must be banned and all religious concessions removed including the banning of mosques, halal certification, and any attempt to implement ANY part of sharia into our own culture, as all every concession we make weakens our own culture, and strengthens Islam within our own communities.

Islam currently has “no go zones” throughout the world, in Western nations including UK, Sweden and other parts of Europe. These zones START with a mosque. Muslims gradually move into the area and then systematically persecute the local residents and businesses until they leave. I can provide video of an Australian refugee – they were spat on, physically attacked and abused, until they had to leave their home and move – from Lakemba, Sydney.

Japan does not have a “problem” with Muslims or Islam as they have banned Mosques and ALL Islamic following or practices. Please consider the future of Australia. Islam has only one plan, and that is the death to all infidels, world domination under sharia law.

Solution

Ban fee collection for halal certification. Australians do not wish to fund Islamic interests, directly or indirectly. If they do, it should be by choice and with knowledge they are doing so. Once fee collection has been removed from the practice, it will be very quickly established just how necessary halal certification is. It is not at all necessary. Some producers exporting to the Middle East have avoided halal certification fees because "Muslims already love your products, they don't need to be certified". It is purely a scam of gigantic proportions.

Ban all mosques and give Islamic leaders a short period of time to sell the properties. Sale funds should be confiscated to reimburse Australian producers who have been extorted by this scam for many years. Mosques have been built largely by the proceeds of a rort, or government funding.

Ban Islamic club rooms, community centres and meeting places.

In the interests of Australia and loyal Australians, please act. This scam must be STOPPED.

Thank you.
