

Committee Secretary

Senate Standing Committees on Education, Employment and Workplace Relations

PO Box 6100

Parliament House

Canberra ACT 2600

Australia

Submission to the Inquiry into the Fair Work Amendment (Small Business-Penalty Rates Exemption) Bill 2012

People give up part of their weekends so they can earn more money through penalty rates. The extra money is the reward for that sacrifice. These jobs are traditionally low paid and it is unfair to take that away. Secondly, if you scrap penalty rates, where is the incentive to work in these industries at all, where will the employers be then? This shows how out of touch politicians really are when it comes to the general public. People will only take so much before they kick back. You've been warned!

Submitted by

Richard Leigh

Tuesday 18th of September 2012