

---

I want a Bill for Citizens Initiated Referenda so that all Australians can vote on important National issues and changes to laws and programs we Australians were never given a say on. As it stands Australian "democracy" is a failed experiment with all the major parties failing Australia. Citizens Initiated Referenda would be a step forward and a move away from the current destructive direction the Greens, Labor, the Coalition and others have taken us.

Max Bolte BSc Agr