

I sincerely hope that you will do everything in your power as a politician so hence somebody who does have the power to do all you can to end live animal export. It is outrageously cruel and a practice that can be stopped if only politicians have the intestinal fortitude to dig deep into their souls and protest vehemently to their colleagues to end this once and for all. It has gone on way too long and there is no better time than now to have the courage to put an end to it. There is no need for live export – have the same courage as New Zealand and end it now. Why impose such deplorable suffering when there is no need for it. Come on be a voice for the animals. Imagine how terrible they must feel watching each other being horribly slaughtered waiting for their turn. I can only begin to imagine how it must feel. Can you?????
