The response to the Honourable Senator's question is as follows:

Questions 1, 2 and 3 – member names and appointment types

The responses to questions 1, 2 and 3 are set out in columns 2 to 9 in Attachment A.

Column 8 sets out the member's first continuous appointment date which is the most recent date from which the member has held successive appointments to the Administrative Appeals Tribunal (AAT). For those members who held an appointment to the former Migration Review Tribunal (MRT), Refugee Review Tribunal (RRT) or Social Security Appeals Tribunal (SSAT) immediately before 1 July 2015, their first appointment date is recorded as 1 July 2015.

Generally, members do not commence working at the AAT immediately on the first day of their appointment. There may be some lead time to allow for members to be assigned to divisions, and some may not be available to commence immediately due to other personal or professional commitments. Members also need to take an oath or affirmation of office and be inducted and trained before they start working on cases.

Members are appointed either on a full-time or part-time basis. Members appointed on a part-time basis can have different patterns of working which may change over the course of their appointment. They may work either:

- a specified number of days each week in accordance with a direction given by the President under section 18B of the Administrative Appeals Tribunal Act 1975 (AAT Act)
- for part-time members working in the Migration and Refugee Division – a number of days approved for a year by the Division Head, or
- on a ‘sessional’ basis as required by the AAT.

The AAT has recorded in column 7 only whether the member was appointed full time or part time.

Question 4 – remuneration

The Commonwealth Remuneration Tribunal determines the remuneration for AAT members.

Members who are appointed on a full-time basis receive a total remuneration package which represents the value of salary, allowances and lump sum payments, benefits and employer superannuation contributions. Certain matters are not included such as travel expenses and allowances that may also be payable. In the rare instances the President approves a person appointed as a full-time member to work on a part-time basis, the total remuneration and leave accruals are proportionately reduced.

Members who are appointed on a part-time basis are eligible to be paid:

- most commonly, a daily fee once they have undertaken AAT official business of 7 hours duration and any cancellation fees, or
- an annual fee if the member is subject to a direction given by the President to work a specified number of days each week.

A daily fee may accumulate over multiple days. A maximum of one daily fee may be paid for any one day. A cancellation fee equal to 50% of the applicable daily fee must be paid if all of a day’s work is cancelled with less than 5 working days’ notice.

If a member is eligible to be paid an annual fee, it covers all activities undertaken by the member in performing the duties of the member’s office.

Prior to 2019–20, the relevant Remuneration Tribunal determinations also provided that part-time members were eligible for a minimum annual payment where work was not available. It was the equivalent of 5 or 10 daily fees, depending on when the member was appointed.

In addition to fees payable, the AAT must make employer superannuation contributions for part-time members and allowances may be payable in accordance with AAT policy.

In answer to the question about the number of days that have been paid, the AAT has extracted data from its payroll system about the number of individual daily fees paid to each part-time member (column 11 in Attachment A). This figure excludes cancellation fees.

The total remuneration amount in column 12 includes the total amounts paid in relation to the member, including the gross amounts of salary or fees payable, employer superannuation contributions, and any allowances.

Although full-time members appointed to the same category and remuneration level are entitled to the same total remuneration under the relevant Remuneration Tribunal determination, there are variances in the remuneration. This may be due to a range of factors, including superannuation arrangements, unpaid leave taken, the cashing out of recreation leave and allowances payable to a member during a financial year and the payout of unused leave entitlements upon the cessation of the member's appointment.

Question 5 – administrative roles

The AAT's systems do not capture members' administrative roles in a readily reportable format. To assist with collating the information, the AAT issued a survey to current members and former members (for whom the AAT held a current email address) with a request to indicate whether they held a Division Head, Deputy Division Head, Executive Member or Practice Leader role in 2018–19, 2019–20 or 2020–21. The survey also asked for membership of internal AAT committees or groups, membership of external committees or groups in their capacity as an AAT member, and any additional relevant information.

Column 13 in Attachment A notes when a member has held a formal administrative role or was Chair of an internal committee or group in relation to each financial year. Please note that the Executive Member title commenced during 2019–20. Previously, members who occupied these roles in the General & other Divisions were known as Executive Deputy President, and in the Migration and Refugee Division as Practice Managers. Attachment B sets out the names of members who were members of all significant internal committees of the AAT or in a Division.

The extent of the work and time commitment involved for administrative roles and membership of committees or groups varies considerably.

Division Heads are responsible for assisting the President in the performance of the President's functions by directing the business of the Tribunal in their respective divisions. The majority of a Division Head's time is spent undertaking this function.

Executive Members are responsible for supporting and mentoring groups of members. Practice Leaders are responsible for coordinating and managing a designated practice area. The role descriptions for Executive Members and Practice Leaders are attached to the AAT's response to Question F. Although the position descriptions provided with the AAT's response to Question F are specific to the Migration and Refugee Division, these roles are largely similar in the General Division and Social Services and Child Support Division. The significant work of members who undertake or act in these roles in the Migration and Refugee Division is taken into account when allocating work and formulating case day benchmarks. Although other divisions did not have the same system of benchmarks in 2018–19, 2019–20 or 2020–21, these roles are taken into account in the allocation of cases.¹

From time to time, some members have been involved in mentoring, training, external presentations, in reviewing internal documents or external submissions and documents, such as protocols and practice directions, and recruitment or procurement exercises. This work is generally undertaken as part of the member's role and is generally restricted in scope and is not ongoing or for extended periods. This work may be described as administrative but does not constitute a formal administrative role and has therefore not been included in Attachment A or B.

In response to the survey, some members provided additional information about administration or other roles undertaken by them. The AAT has forwarded this information to the Committee separately on behalf of the members. Some of the work to which some members refer includes roles or tasks undertaken at the request of the President or Division Heads, for which the member is given credit. Other tasks relate to the role of the member, or work undertaken by the member in a personal capacity and not in their capacity as an AAT member. This self-reported information has not been verified or validated.

Questions 6, 7 and 8

Data

The data prepared in response to these questions has been extracted from the AAT's 3 case management systems for recording cases in the following divisional groupings:

- Freedom of Information, General, National Disability Insurance Scheme, Security, Small Business Taxation, Taxation and Commercial, and Veterans' Appeals Divisions (General & other Divisions or G&oD)
- Migration and Refugee Division (MRD)
- Social Services and Child Support Division (SSCSD).

These systems were developed by the AAT, MRT-RRT and SSAT prior to the amalgamation in July 2015. Their design and the data they contain reflect the varying information needs and different review processes of the former tribunals, which were largely preserved on amalgamation. The data contained in case management systems does not capture the full range of work undertaken by members in the course of a review.

Collating data from the 3 different case management systems to prepare a whole-of-AAT response to this question has involved aligning data relating to diverse activities with whole-of-AAT definitions and categories. Information about how activities have been categorised for the purpose of the response to this question is provided below.

Data contained in the 3 legacy case management systems includes data manually entered by AAT members and staff and there may be data entry errors and omissions. In some previous responses to questions on notice (for example, the AAT's response to LCC-AE21-80 – Applications finalised by full-time members), the AAT noted that information had not been recorded in the case management system used in the Freedom of Information, General, National Disability Insurance Scheme, Security, Small Business Taxation, Taxation and Commercial, and Veterans' Appeals Divisions about the member(s) who finalised more than 1,500 applications finalised from 1 July 2018. The AAT has since undertaken further analysis and attributed more than 700 of these finalisations to individual members. For this reason, the recorded total of finalised decisions for some members provided in the response to this question has increased and may differ from information previously provided in responses to questions on notice. Work to attribute the remaining finalisations to members is ongoing.

Data included in responses to questions 6, 7 and 8 was peer-checked within reporting teams and reviewed by senior officers. The data was made available to all but 2 members for whom the AAT held a current email address for comment from 22 December 2021 to 7 January 2022. The remaining 2 members received access to the data on 7 January 2022 and were provided additional time for response. Member feedback prompted further checking and figures were updated where required.

Some members provided comments regarding the AAT's response to this question. These individual comments have been compiled in a separate document and provided to the Committee separately on behalf of the members.

Question 6 – number of hearings

Data prepared in response to this question is set out in columns labelled 'Case Events' (columns 14 to 19) in Attachment A.

The number and type of hearing events varies across the AAT's divisions. Types of hearing events include:

- Substantive hearings at which the parties present evidence and submissions in relation to an application to the AAT to the Tribunal member(s) who will decide the case.
- Directions hearings conducted by a Tribunal member to discuss the progress of a case or deal with issues arising in a case, particularly if there has been delay by a party.

The legislation governing the AAT's procedures provides that directions hearings may be held in all divisions other than Migration and Refugee Division. Directions hearings are common in the General & other Divisions. In the Social Services and Child Support Division, they occur regularly in part of the child support caseload. Case events in the nature of a directions hearings held from time to time in the Migration and Refugee Division are included in 'substantive hearing' counts in Attachment A.

- Interlocutory hearings in relation to an application made by a party that relates to an application for a review of a decision, including any of the following kinds of application: to extend the time to lodge an application for a review; that the Tribunal does not have jurisdiction to review the decision; to be joined as a party to a proceeding; to make a confidentiality order; to stay the operation or implementation of the decision under review; to dismiss an application; or to reinstate an application.

Interlocutory hearings are listed regularly in the General & other Divisions, particularly where an application is opposed by another party, to a lesser extent in the Social Services and Child Support Division and not at all in the Migration and Refugee Division.

Members in all divisions, including the Migration and Refugee Division, may make various interlocutory orders and directions on the papers. These orders and directions are recorded in the case management system but are not recorded as case events and therefore are not included in the case events data for the members.

In the majority of cases in the Social Services and Child Support Division, a single hearing of less than one day's duration is held. While hearings in Migration and Refugee Division cases are not listed over multiple days, it is not uncommon for them to be listed for part of a day and then relisted on a second day. In contrast, cases in the General & other Divisions frequently involve multiple types of hearing events, including directions hearings and/or interlocutory hearings, and substantive hearings may take place over a number of days. Each case event that has been listed on a day, including resumed hearings, is counted as a separate case event in Attachment A.

In all divisions, most cases are decided by a single member. However, an application may be heard and decided by a multi-member Tribunal. For example, an expert member may sit with a generalist member, a new member may sit with an experienced member, or there may be multi-member panels constituted for complex or novel cases. For these cases, a hearing event has been recorded in Attachment A for each member who was part of the panel.

Column 19 in Attachment A sets out the number of alternative dispute resolution (ADR) processes conducted by any of the members. ADR processes include conferences, conciliations, mediation, case appraisal and neutral evaluation. The AAT conducts ADR processes in all divisions other than the Migration and Refugee Division and the Social Services and Child Support Division.

Question 7 – finalisations

The number of applications finalised by a member and the amount of time taken to finalise applications can be affected by a range of factors and do not provide a complete or accurate measure of work effort.

- The total number of applications finalised by members does not give an accurate representation of the work undertaken by a member. This is because the amount of time required to finalise individual applications varies considerably. Some cases are complex, may involve interlocutory applications, extensive case management, including directions hearings, and/or lengthy hearings and written statements of reasons for decision. Some applications may require more than one hearing and more than one written decision. These count as one finalised application. Other cases may be less complex and more easily resolved. These variations apply for all divisions with some more experienced members undertaking a higher proportion of the more complex and difficult reviews.

In the Migration and Refugee Division the issue of varying complexity has been addressed by the allocation of weightings in the form of ‘case days’ to different categories of case. This allows for a more accurate and useful assessment of workload. For instance, based only on the number of finalisations, a member who finalised 300 cases relating to a student visa refusal in a financial year may appear more productive than a member who has finalised 65 complex cases relating to a protection visa cancellation or a protection visa case remitted to the AAT by a court. The allocation of greater weighting (or more case days) to more complex categories of case recognises the effort and time involved in these cases.

In the example given, the 300 cases relating to a student visa refusal finalised by the first member represents only 150 case days, while the 65 more complex cases finalised by the second member equates to 260 case days. Given there are 230 available case days in a financial year (taking into account work days and excluding annual leave entitlements) it is apparent that despite their lower number of finalisations, the second member has been highly productive.

The current case days system was introduced in 2018 to facilitate more accurate comparison and give greater emphasis to the finalisation of complex cases rather than volume. The lack of information about case days in Attachment A is an issue raised by some members who undertake work in the Migration and Refugee Division in their individual comments on the data which included in the compilation of member comments separately provided to the Committee.

A further matter raised is that from time to time Senior Members and Members (particularly Practice Leaders) may finalise reviews as part of a project where those cases have been case managed and involve a single or straightforward issue. A group of these cases may be allocated to a member to finalise with minimal case day weighting. They will be included in the member's finalisation numbers but will involve minimal work and this is more accurately reflected in the case days associated with their finalisation.

To give the Committee a better understanding of the difference between the number of case finalisations and the weighting of case finalisations in case days, the AAT would be able to provide a case day analysis for the Migration and Refugee Division for 2020–21 separately to this response.

- The number of applications part-time members finalise in a given period depends on their availability to undertake work in the AAT in the context of their personal and professional circumstances, their suitability to undertake different kinds of work and the number of applications the AAT allocates to them. For example, some part-time members who are appointed on the basis of particular specialist expertise may only be required from time to time.
- Members may undertake work on cases that do not proceed to finalisation or are finalised by other members. For example, applications may be settled or withdrawn shortly prior to, during or after a hearing after work has already been undertaken. Some members undertake ADR processes, case management tasks or deal with interlocutory applications in cases that may be ultimately decided by another member.
- Some members' functions include finalising applications by making consent decisions in accordance with terms of agreement reached by the parties or by making decisions on the papers about matters such as jurisdiction. In the Migration and Refugee Division, certain members finalise cases through a roster, without receiving a case day weighting. These cases are similar to consent decisions made in the other Divisions in that they generally require minimal work. The numbers of applications finalised by members who do or do not undertake this work cannot be fairly compared.
- As noted in the response to questions 1 to 3 above, members do not necessarily commence immediately on being appointed to the AAT. They are required to undertake an induction process before commencing work on cases and for various reasons there can be some delay before they are allocated work. Some new members may have commenced working in the AAT or in a Division a few months before the end of the financial year such that, given the lead time involved in progressing cases, applications allocated to them may not be able to be finalised in the period. Some members' terms of appointment may also have ended, including by resignation, in the period.
- A small number of members appointed to the AAT may be unable to take up their appointment and are not inducted nor take an oath or affirmation of office.
- Some members may have extended leave in the period, including because of accident, illness or other adverse personal circumstances.

- Some members, including the President, Division Heads, some other Deputy Presidents and some Senior Members, have caseload management and member management responsibilities which reduce the number of cases they can be allocated. Column 13 in Attachment A shows those members who have designated administrative roles. The AAT’s response to question on notice F provides further information about these responsibilities and their impact on members’ decision-making in the Migration and Refugee Division.
- Some members undertake non-case-related administrative functions such as membership of internal AAT committees or representation of the AAT in external contexts. These are generally formal roles that have been assigned to them. Column 13 in Attachment A notes where a member has been a member of an internal or external committee or group. In the Migration and Refugee Division, the work of members involved in these roles is generally recognised by a discount to a member’s caseload benchmark.
- Some members exercise powers under a range of other Acts in their personal capacity. This includes functions such as considering applications for the issue of warrants under the Surveillance Devices Act 2004 or the Telecommunications (Interception and Access) Act 1979. This work involves the allocation of significant member time. For example, in 2020–21, members considered applications relating to warrants, controlled operations and other functions on 2,640 occasions. A number of members are also appointed as approved examiners under the Proceeds of Crime Act 2002. During 2020–21, AAT members were involved in 83 examination sessions. This work is not reflected in Attachment A. While the AAT supports members to undertake these functions as part of the broader administration of justice and law enforcement, they are not functions of the Tribunal itself.
- Members are involved in other work that it is not directly case-related such as mentoring other members or staff.

The skills and experience of members affect the nature of the applications allocated to them and may also affect the number of applications they may be able to finalise and the timeliness of doing so, as do other matters relating to a member’s proficiency. The number of applications finalised by a member is only one of several indicia considered in relation to a member’s workload and output. Other indicia include:

- the complexity and diversity of the member’s caseload
- timeliness of reviews
- where relevant for members undertaking work in the Migration and Refugee Division, the member’s results against their benchmark
- the quality of decision-making
- the number and outcomes of further reviews, appeals and judicial review applications, and
- the contribution that the member makes towards the management of the division, projects and professional development.

Question 7a – substantive decisions, by Division and area of work

Data prepared in response to this part of the question is set out in columns 20 to 41 in Attachment A.

To respond to this part of the question, the AAT has extracted and collated data from its 3 case management systems relating to all applications recorded as having been finalised by the member by making a decision on the merits to affirm the decision under review, vary the decision or set the decision aside and substitute a new decision, or to remit the matter for reconsideration under section 43 of the AAT Act or sections 349 or 415 of the Migration Act 1958 (Migration Act).

Where an application has been decided by a multi-member Tribunal, the finalisation has been recorded in Attachment A for each member who was part of the panel.

Question 7b – decisions by consent

Data prepared in response to this part of the question is set out in column 42 in Attachment A.

Applications finalised ‘by consent’ include:

- applications finalised by making a decision to affirm the decision under review, vary the decision or set the decision aside and substitute a new decision, or to remit the matter for reconsideration in accordance with terms of agreement reached by the parties either in the course of an ADR process (section 34D of the AAT Act) or at any stage of review proceedings (section 42C of the AAT Act), and
- applications dismissed by consent under section 42A(1) of the AAT Act.

Before finalising an application by consent under section 34D or 42C of the AAT Act, a member must be satisfied that the proposed decision set out in the signed terms of agreement would be within the powers of the Tribunal and that it appears appropriate to make the decision. This assessment including considering whether the proposed decision is one that can be lawfully made by a decision-maker applying the relevant legislative criteria and the scope of the Tribunal's jurisdiction to review the decision.

Applications are not finalised by consent in the Migration and Refugee Division. In the Social Services and Child Support Division, finalisations by consent occur mainly in child support cases.

Question 7c – no jurisdiction

Data prepared in response to this part of the question is set out in column 43 in Attachment A.

To respond to this part of the question, the AAT has extracted and collated data from its 3 case management systems relating to all applications recorded as having been dismissed or otherwise finalised on the basis of a finding that the AAT cannot review the decision. This includes findings that the AAT has no jurisdiction because:

- the decision is not subject to review by the AAT, including because no required internal review has been undertaken
- the applicant does not have standing to apply for a review of the decision, for example because they are not in Australia and are required to be to make a valid application

- the application has not been made within any prescribed time limit (with no application for an extension of time made in those divisions where that option is available), or
- any applicable application fee has not been paid.

Question 7d – extensions of time

Data prepared in response to this part of the question is set out in column 44 in Attachment A.

In divisions other than the Migration and Refugee Division, a person who lodges an application for review of a decision outside the usually applicable time limit may apply for an extension of time to allow them to lodge the application. To respond to this part of the question, the AAT has extracted and collated data relating to all applications recording as having been finalised on the basis that an application for extension of time was refused.

Where an application for an extension of time is granted, the review proceeds. The application may be recorded as a ‘substantive finalisation’ for a member who ultimately finalises the application.

Question 7e – other finalisations (specialising type)

Data prepared in response to this part of the question is set out in columns 45 and 46 in Attachment A.

Column 45 contains data extracted and collated from the AAT’s 3 case management systems relating to applications recorded as having been finalised in the following ways:

- for applications finalised in the Migration and Refugee Division – making a decision under section 362B or 426A of the Migration Act to confirm a decision to dismiss the application where the applicant failed to appear before the Tribunal at a hearing, and
- for applications finalised in other divisions – making a decision to dismiss the application under section 42A(2) of the AAT Act (failure to appear at an ADR process, directions hearing or hearing), section 42A(5) (failure to proceed with an application or to comply with a direction of the AAT) or 42B (application is frivolous, vexatious, misconceived, lacking in substance, has no reasonable prospect of success or is an abuse of the process of the AAT).

Cases finalised in these ways vary widely and can involve significant member work. For example, cases in the Migration and Refugee Division and Social Services and Child Support Division often require significant member involvement with pre-hearing preparation, attendance at a hearing, preparation of an initial dismissal decision and then, in the Migration and Refugee Division, consideration of an application for reinstatement or confirmation of the dismissal 14 days after the person has been notified of the dismissal decision. These cases can often take at least half a day and if an application for reinstatement is received, consideration of the application will take more time. A decision about reinstatement or a refusal to reinstate and confirmation of the dismissal in the Migration and Refugee Division requires a separate written decision, but this is only recorded in the case management system as 1 finalisation.

Column 46 contains data extracted and collated relating to applications recorded as having been finalised:

- on the basis that the application was withdrawn where a member has confirmed the application was validly withdrawn which primarily occurs in the Migration and Refugee Division, or
- in any other way not included in other question categories.

Questions 7f and 7g – written and oral decisions

Data prepared in response to these parts of the question is set out in columns 47 and 48 in Attachment A.

To respond to these parts of the question, the AAT has extracted and collated data from its 3 case management systems relating to decisions that can be attributed to a member – whether an interlocutory decision or a decision finalising an application – in relation to which it was recorded that reasons for the decision were given orally and/or a written statement of reasons was prepared. If a written statement of reasons was prepared after reasons were given orally, both the oral and written reasons have been counted.

A single set of reasons may relate to more than one application. While each application finalised is counted in the responses to parts 7a to 7e of this question, a single set of reasons is counted as one decision in the responses to these parts of the questions. The preparation of a single set of reasons relating to multiple applications generally involves more work than the preparation of reasons relating to a single application.

In the Migration and Refugee Division, on the rare occasions when a case is reopened after finalisation, the reasons for the case to be reopened are not recorded as a separate written decision.

Where a decision has been made by a multi-member Tribunal, the decision has been recorded in Attachment A for each member who was part of the panel.

Question 8 – percentage of decisions finalised more than 60 days after date reserved

Data prepared in response to this question is set out in column 49 of Attachment A.

The 60-day timeframe relating to the finalisation of decisions after they have been reserved is not used in the Migration and Refugee Division or Social Services and Child Support Division, where different approaches to monitoring timeliness are applied. The data provided in response to this question therefore relates only to cases finalised in General & other Divisions. This percentage represents the proportion of cases finalised by way of a substantive decision under section 43 of the AAT Act that were finalised within 60 days after the last day of hearing, or the receipt of further information after the hearing.
