

Hi,

Heard about the new bill being raised .....

As a consumer and as someone concerned with the environmental damage packaging causes I cannot see any barriers to such a scheme (as has been run in SA for decades) being introduced nationally...

I am sure that the drink suppliers will whine and complain but this is a small price to pay for an environmentally sustainable packaging policy...

It is not as if it is anything very new or daring ....

As I mentioned SA has had this for ages and many European countries run a paid container return program...

I hope you get on with it ...

Regards
Owen
