Parliamentary inquiry into a better family law system to support and protect those affected by family violence

Issue date: 28 July 2017

Parliamentary inquiry to hold hearings in Sydney

The Parliamentary Inquiry into a better family law system to support and protect those affected by family violence will hold a public hearing in Sydney on Monday 31 July, including a dedicated roundtable examining accessible and affordable resolutions.

The Chair of the Committee, Sarah Henderson MP said: “High legal costs present barriers to justice in the family law system, and the roundtable will have a strong focus on the cost of justice which is emerging as a key issue in the inquiry.”

“As part of the hearing, the Committee will also hear from People with Disability Australia, Interrelate and a range of research and advocacy groups, and support services,” said Ms Henderson.

A detailed program for the hearing is available from the Inquiry website.

Public hearing details:

9.00 am to 3.30 pm, Monday 31 July
Macquarie Room, NSW Parliament House
6 Macquarie Street, Sydney

The hearing (audio only) will be streamed live at aph.gov.au/live and video footage of the hearing will be made available from the Inquiry website at a later date.

Members of the public are welcome to attend the hearing however there will be limited seating available.
