

Water Resources and The Senate.

At the risk of stating the obvious I would like to remind our elected Senate of the nature of our dry continent and the absolute need for vigilance in protecting our water supply.

It is vital that the Senate use its powers to approve today's bill that will provide the necessary oversight of the impacts of coal mining and coal seam gas extraction on water resources.