

Dear Minister Wong,

I am writing to voice my bitter disappointment over the treatment of people like myself who undertook the Home Sustainability course in good faith and at great personal expense I was not looking for a get rich quick scheme just an honest way of finding work in an industry I have great interest in and felt passionate educating people about.

To date I have my certification from ABSA for what its worth. I am $3,000 out of pocket money my family can't afford to lose.

We need answers now regarding the likelihood of ever being contracted and work being available as I was led to believe
