

The Joint Select Committee on Australia's Immigration Detention Network

To whom it may concern:

I ask the Senate to look carefully at the issue of Immigration Detention and, in formulating a response, seek to establish a just and humanitarian system in which refugees are no longer demonised in the media or subjected to lengthy detention facing uncertain futures. Children should never, under any circumstance, be held in detention.

I would like to see the Senate strenuously advocate a return to a bipartisan approach to the problem of refugees around the world.
