

According to reports the government has already wasted $200 million to try and jail poor Indonesian fishermen, what is the point?

If the argument is it will deter others then the government has really lost the plot, there are 15 million refugees in the world and all of them buy transport.

Marilyn Shepherd