

To whom it may concern:

In regards to this new superannuation Bill I personally feel this bill will undermine the special conditions the the Defence Force has to endure so that they can receive the special benefits' within their superannuation. If this new bill is passed that special benefit will be lost forever. Some background information of myself I'm currently a TPI pensioner following injuries sustained during my 20 years service in the Royal Australian Army Medical Corp. Including postings with the Infantry, Armoured, Artillery and Aviation units. These postings have a unique roll to play that has no equal within the civilian community. So please don't let this happen to our service conditions which have deteriorated since my enlistment in 1980 which has resulted in benefits being reduced gradually. This has resulted in a lot of personnel taking Discharge from the Defence Forces out of pure disgust.

yours Sincerely
Wayne G. Foulds
