

Dear Sir or Madam,

My husband and I have lodged our visa 885 application in December 2008, submitting all documents to DIAC, which are genuine and totally compliance with DIAC's requirements.

Since then, we have made a full plan of our settlement in Australia. I got full time work in a newspaper office. We bought cars. What's more, my husband has purchased and run his business here, in which we invest a lot of money, time and efforts. With about 1 million yearly taking, we paid a lot of tax to Australian governments.

However, your Migration Amendment (Visa Capping) Bill 2010 will surely put us in a thoroughly miserable and frustrated situation. If you allow the Bill to be passed which has the possibilities to be applied to the applications that were ALREADY lodged, I should say it will be a totally unfair and even inhuman decision! We cannot accept it at all after such a long time waiting!!!

Yes, the DIAC can refund us the application fee, but can they give our time back?? Give our hope back?? Capping/ceasing lodged application will totally destroy our dream and life, waste our time and endeavors, and ruin our investments and future plan. I expect to have my first baby in the near future, but how can I do that in such an uncertainty?

We are all innocent human beings. Put yourself in our position, and I believe you will understand us. Australia always has a good reputation of fairness. We love Australia. We trust you!

Sincerely,
Would-be Australian
