To who it may concern

I realise the lateness of this submission and that it may be too late to form part of the inquiry.

ESRI Australia a major GIS software provider and industry leader, selling GIS software for approximately $6000 per single downloadable license, administered from the US. The same software is available for approximately $2500 in the US. Most Australian government agencies would use this software (ArcGIS and similar).

Is there any way that this company can be looked at further in the inquiry, or has been included already?

Kind regards

Shane
