Australian Federal Parliament

A submission to the Joint Standing Committee for external treaties of Australia.

Should Australia accept the Statute of an International Criminal Court proposed by the international community?

Submission published to Web site:

http://www.homestead.com/World_Environment/Australian_Civil_Rights.html

Looks like the new world order wants to jail activists in all countries who speak up via the Internet against their plan to dominate (WTO - World Trade Organization) the world economy and turn us all into silent slaves.

Also activists against World Economic Forums (W.E.F.).

What else could it be?

Do they want to jail robbers here in Australia?

Do they want to jail rapists here in Australia?

Do they want to jail murderers here in Australia?

Do they want to jail hackers, who hack into their computers? - maybe

Do they want to jail white collar crime? - maybe!

Do they want to silence us about their plan for world dominance and stuff genetically modified food down our throats? - Yes

Our treacherous Australian politicians sold out our Australian rights under the Lima Agreement and the Lima Agreement spawned the Gatt Agreement which now forms the basis of free trade policy.

Now we have a group of very wealthy people meeting in different places around the globe discussing how they are going to achieve their goal of global dominance in World Economic Forums protected by Razor Wire and mobs of police to beat up protestors as happened in Davos Switzerland and before that Melbourne and Seattle.

It is obvious there will not be any democracy for people in this new world, we are being sucked into economic slavery, when people who conduct peaceful protest are confronted by razor wire and the police ready to beat the pulp out of them.

I am a private citizen and taxpayer of Australia, I would like to raise a total objection to the consideration of any overseas proposal that will be binding on the citizens of Australia.

Our publicly elected representatives are responsible to we the taxpayers of Australia a sovereign nation and government, the politicians serve the peoples interests for any internal law and political issues that effect their elector constituents.

International Agreements or Treaties.

Australian taxpayers must be given the opportunity to decide whether to agree or to reject International agreements or treaties via their voting rights at public referendum.

For too long, the people have been amazed at what the politicians are doing and are very unhappy with their elected officials gallivanting around the world signing U.N. / treaties and World Trade agreements without asking the people first.

For way too long, the taxpayers had become complaisant and allowed their elected officials to run the country, now its a new century all the people want, to do is take back, politicians arrogant power.

As for politicians who think they are more powerful, you can try to run the gauntlet of the people, you will suffer their wrath soon and that goes for all politicians and Lib/Lab parties.

Australia must never allow an International Criminal Court, to override the authority of our own internal institutions or domestic laws, we are an island nation and self sufficient in all things that a human civilisation wants and needs, we do not have to bow to anyone.

We participate in this world and we are a friendly country of equal status to your own country but we will not bow and do what you want even if your economic wealth is dazzling.

Citizens of this country must never be bound to decisions made by any external authority.

We have our own common law rights and don't need any external authority trying to circumvent our common law rights.
Therefore:

Australia should not be party to the Statute of International Criminal Code.

Because:

1. It overrides Australia sovereignty:

Australia (government) rejected appeals to the Privy Council in order to end jurisdiction by "foreign" authorities. It is therefore hypocritical and a reversal of existing policy of independent sovereignty.

It is not in the best interests of the Australian people to transfer sovereignty to an alien foreign power.

The parliament does not have the peoples' authority for such a transfer of juridical sovereignty.

To transfer sovereignty to a foreign power could only be lawful following a referendum of the population.

2. Should Australia become a party to this Code:

It would place all Australians under the control of a foreign alien power without their individual knowledge or authority, and

It would place all Australians under an authority over which they could not possible have proper democratic influence, and

It would place all Australians under an authority that will be concerned more about the interests of more powerful nations and assets than it would be about Australians, and Australians would have no reasonable or democratic control over future developments of the Code.

3. Australia must not become a party to this Code:

All persons involved in the support of such involvement will have committed an act of treachery against the Australian people for which they will be held fully accountable.

Please Consider;

Please reject this insidious proposal,

Yours Faithfully.
