Dear Sir/mr, I'll preface this contribution by saying I am an average member of the community and expect my contribution will have little effect, but I could not forgive myself for not attempting to have some effect, as I believe Australian society is gravely endangered by our current migration policies and policies on multiculturalism.

Recent claims by our politicians that multiculturalism is working just fine in Australia, despite Cameron in the UK and Merkel in Germany telling the truth that multiculturalism and particularly Muslim migration have been a disaster, are ludicrous.

Islam and Muslim migrants are nothing but trouble out of all proportion in every place they are allowed to migrate to. Though they'll complain about being picked on, they can't get on with, and don't want to, get on with anyone. They want to dominate and take over. Islam has always been a violent, bullying creed. It is nothing like the other, more ennobling religions. The trouble it always brings should be no surprise. By now, our politicians should have woken up as there is enough evidence here and in the experience of Europe and North America. We have virtually no trouble from our Buddhist, Christian and Jewish migrants. From Muslims, nothing but trouble. Every couple of days another story of strife and trouble and another illustration of the total incompatibility of Muslim values and our western values.

Ban any more Muslim migration to Australia, or at least reduce their numbers greatly, or Australia faces enormous damage, and even the destruction of the fabric of our society in the future. I know what I am saying is shared by a large number of Australians who are wide awake to the nature of Islam, just as it is shared by vast numbers of Europeans and people in North America. Wake up political leaders. Don't wait until it is too late.

Thanks for the opportunity to contribute to this vital debate.

Yours sincerely,
