

SUBMISSION No. 134

Subject: Submission on Joint Standing Committee on Cyber-Safety

I recently received a letter requesting my children to fill in an online questionnaire regarding cyber bullying.

As parents, we are generally the ones that are required to make the rules and enforce them with relation to our children's online internet usage.

I would therefore think that the necessity of having a questionnaire seeking parents views and concerns on this matter would be of equal importance to that of our childrens, as we are ultimately the people charged with looking after our children's wellbeing in this respect.

I would request that you consider this need.

Annette Atkins