Submission No: 1269

Secretary:

Called about the child custody inquiry. He has a daughter who lives with his ex-partner and he pays $400 a month maintenance, he has no problems with that as she is his responsibility.

However he has remarried and has a stepdaughter whose father does not pay maintenance very regularly. He feels that the CSA system is unfair and feels that CSA are putting a value on children, they should be of equal value no matter what the payers income is.

He also said that he feels disadvantaged as he has to take responsibility of two children and CSA don't take that into consideration.

He also stated that his wife has to contact CSA to tell them where her ex-husband is as they don't do any searching for them at all.
